

Headteacher Blog – Friday 19th January 2024

Time: 16:00

What an exciting week we have had here at Newton Bluecoat! Tuesday saw the arrival of a huge amount of snow... more snow than we had seen in a long time! Steve, our site supervisor, arrived very early to help grit some pathways around school. Steve has been our superstar this week, keeping us all safe in the wintry weather.

The children spent their break times on Tuesday building snowmen, igloos and making snow angels. Even the teachers joined in with all the fun. It is now Friday and some of our larger snowmen are still standing on the back field. I wonder if they will still be there on Monday?

Our school clubs have started again this week and athletics is proving extremely popular. The dance club are busy practising for their competition at Blackpool Tower Ballroom and the routine is coming along nicely. We can't wait to go to the Tower and show off all of our hard work.

Have a lovely weekend everyone and see you on Monday.
